25TH ANNIVERSARY OF AN ICON

UPDATING OFFSET TECHNOLOGY

We started with a single density inner core, keeping the same shape as the original 3-D Offset. The original was a thick-shell ball, and we modified today's version with a carbon fiber outer core. These updates create more dynamic core numbers for increased ball motion potential and a durable, harder-hitting product. We've also made this a D.O.T. ball which further increases durability and eliminates layout and drilling restrictions.

UPDATING THE COVER

The Blazing Violet appearance stands out as much today as it did 25 years ago. We've also branded it the same way with yellow Hammer logos on the right and left side and the orange 3-D Offset logo in the middle. A minimal amount of Pearl was added to the Neoflex 25 cover to create optimal performance for today's conditions. The new 3-D Offset is finished at 2000 Siaair, yet it easily gets through the front of the lane and has a strong and continuous move throughout the backend and pin deck.
