

HP2™
HOOK POTENTIAL

Rules are made to be broken.
Then again, isn't everything?

My name says it all. I was made to shatter. The pins, the record books, my opponents' will. They'll all be left as shards on the floor. Yeah, destruction is my passion. But there's one thing I won't break – the bank. I'm here to prove that high scores don't have to come with a high price tag. I'm ready to hit hard in the pocket without making you reach deep into yours. There's an old cliché that says, "You get what you pay for." Well with me, you get a whole lot more. So consider that notion. . . shattered.

GUTS.

Start the countdown to Shattertown.

My guts have been cut from a proven cloth, featuring the same late-rolling Neutron™ core utilized in both the Rising Star™ and Shooting Star™. With this weapon, I have become the model of consistency, producing good length and strong motion down-lane. 3-2-1-Shatter.

GRIT.

Saving energy for when it matters.

When it's time to shatter, I want to make sure I have as much in the tank as possible. My 51ML™ pearl reactive coverstock allows me to easily clear the front part of medium to lighter oiled lanes and provide more stored energy down-lane where it counts.

Factory Finish: 1500-grit Polished

Flare Potential: 4-5 inches

Coverstock: 51ML Pearl Reactive

Color: Sky Blue/Emerald

Hardness: 75-77 on D-Scale

GRIME.

Heavy-hitting on lighter oil.

I produce more length and backend on medium to lighter oil conditions than the Rising Star™ and Shooting Star™, creating the perfect combination when paired with either of my predecessors. I'm a force to be reckoned with on my own, but destruction always loves company.
