THE NEW BOWLING TECHNOLOGY.™

CRITICAL MASS™

The energy storing Versathane™ coverstock of the Critical Mass™ surrounds a powerful 2-piece core configuration. Within this unique configuration is the densest material ever placed in a bowling ball - the patented ceramic PowerTech™ Core which generates the lowest radius of gyration possible. Maximum energy potential is achieved with less hand action in a spinning roll and sharp hook. The first bowling ball in the industry with a ceramic PowerTech Core™. Get a Critical Mass™ into the hands of your customers and they'll see a change in the way they bowl from now on.

CODE RED™

Critical Mass Code Red™ creates the same free spinning additional revolutions as the original Critical Mass™ with an added twist - a maximum flare potential of 3 1/2 inches in a basic, over-the-label drilling. The combination of the dynamically imbalanced outer core, the super dense ceramic PowerTech™ inner core and energy storing Versathane™ coverstock allows even the weakest of releases to achieve maximum hook potential. Control in the front part of the lane with a powerful reactive hook in the backend - that's the Critical Mass Code Red™.

NRg™

THE NEW ENERGY SOURCE FROM TRACK. The real power in high-tech bowling balls is finally here - from TRACK. This ball which features an improved, modified 2-piece ceramic PowerTech™ Core combined with our new Versathane Plus™ coverstock, delivers superior performance on any lane condition.

The NRg™ boasts an impressive flare potential of greater than 5 inches, even higher than most reactive balls. This low radius of gyration generates the most revs with the least hand action. This ball does the work for the bowler. Energy...that's what we've created by joining the new PowerTech™ Core with the Versathane Plus™ coverstock. If your customers can use some energy, they'll want to get the NRg™.

SENSOR™

Sensor™ actually senses specific oil patterns and reacts accordingly. The Candy Apple Red Sensor™ is an unconventionally constructed, modified 3-piece ball without the pancake weight block found in other typical 3-piece balls. Sensor™ has a dynamically shaped, high-density weight block strategically engineered and positioned to enhance roll and backend performance. Sensor™ revs harder without hooking early. Sensor™ is the first high-performance ball on the market with a sensible price that makes it easy for your customers to add it to their bowling arsenal.
