

Built with a titanium core scientifically designed to crush your competition's ego

Unbeatable performance for an unbeatable price

Titanium. It's strong. It's explosive. It's the perfect material for destroying pins. The new, affordably priced Ti-Hawk, with a high revving titanium core, makes a powerful addition to your pin-crushing arsenal. This new member of the Hawk family of balls has a lower radius of gyration, which leads to a higher spin rate, so it picks up earlier with more hook. And with a coefficient of restitution that increases your carry, the collision energy is distributed through the pins, sending their little red necks into orbit. The Ti-Hawk has landed. You better hope it's on your side.
