

The Magic Potion for Continuous Motion

The design of the Elixir is unique. A completely redesigned weight block features an improved tristack design with Dyno-Sphere™ technology, a dense inner core creating a low rg (2.525). On top is a 4" brick (flip block) for tremendous flare potential (7" plus).

Encompassing this core is an all new GT™ (Gripping Technology) particle coverstock for added traction in the oil. The surface of the GT™ coverstock can be easily adjusted with polishes, sandpaper or Scotchbrite™ for a specific reaction on most lane surfaces.
