

INVASION

BEGIN TRANSMISSION:

Approximately 7 hours ago, some...THING...attacked Premier City without warning. Our site sustained heavy damage and many were taken, but we gathered what we could and scrambled quickly underground. When the invasion occurred, we were in the midst of testing our latest Origin™ asymmetrical core that was encased within the new R3X™ coverstock. Although we still do not fully understand what is happening, nor the extent of the anarchy above ground, we vow to finish our creation and release it as soon as it is fully tested.

If you get this message...know that others have survived!
END TRANSMISSION.
