The Seismic Euphoric uses the Overb core (Euphoria Pearl) but is now matched up with the LNC Solid Reactive cover (Solaris Blackout), which comes sanded to 4000 abralon.

We wanted to create a ball with the oil handling capabilities associated with an asymmetric core but the control of symmetric, and allow you to break a pattern down encouraging a move to the left as play progresses... Enter, the Euphoric.

The Euphoric is aggressive off your hand due to the strong cover, however the core does not overpower it in the midlane. You will see consistent push through the midlane to release pure aggression on the back end. Get ready for that Euphoric feeling when you start shredding the pins with SEISMIC!
